Shri Banwarilal Purohit in his convocation address congratulated the graduates (B.Ed.) and post graduates (M.Ed.) and the faculty members of the college for their indigenous efforts. He motivated the young teachers to fortify the virtues of discipline, honesty and integrity in their character in order to justify themselves to their endeavour of choosing this noble profession. He said that the teacher has the responsibility and opportunity at the same time, to encourage the pursuit of learning and overall improvement of education system. Further, he added that holding the degree is not an end but it's just a milestone towards a long and successful journey. As he quoted from scriptures 'Aacharya devo bhava' and inspired them to act as students for life to learn consistently and grow as an individual. He referred to Dr. A.P.J Abdul Kalam as an example and emphasized that not only intellectual development but character building should also be the focus of teachers of modern times due to major influence of social media on the present generation. He highlighted that Bhagavad Gita, the only scripture that has been pronounced by the Lord Shri Krishna himself acts as a guiding principle for the teachers to work in a dedicated manner.
